IDO wise activities outcomes

1. NARES use tools, methods and processes to generate and customize improved resilience options for targeted groups of vulnerable households

2. NARES1 use tools, methods and processes to generate and customise improved intensification options for targeted groups of intesifiable households

3. NARES and health sector organisations work together and adopt diagnostic and systematic research approaches to promoting and developing interventions to improve vulnerable women and children’s access to, and control of, more and more diverse food sources, throughout the year

4. Multiple stakeholders in pastoral / agropastoral areas, use evidence based ecosystem management, at community level in the governance of common and privately managed land and water resources

5. Farmers and pastoralists (especially women) have better access to more diverse, efficient and equitable markets

6. Service providers adopt innovations to improve their effectiveness, integration and reach

7. Policy makers reform and institutions implement policies that remove constraints to, and improve incentives for, rational management of natural resources